Figuring Out What Words Mean
New Word	What helps you know what it means?

Note: Readers often meet words that are new to them. When that happens, they read “all around the word” to try to figure out what it means. Choose two words from the text that you are not sure about. It might be a completely new word or a word you know that is used in a new way. Then “read around” the word. In the first column, write the new word. In the second column, write some language from the text that helps you with the meaning.
